Manual Handling

The 1992 Regulations apply to lifting, pushing, pulling, carrying and moving by hand or by bodily force. More work injuries are caused through "handling goods" than any other single action. Manual lifting is included in this and an incorrect technique can cause serious injury.

Never attempt to lift anything beyond your capacity. If in doubt get a second person or others to help. If mechanical aids are provided, use them.

The Council will identify tasks that present a manual handling hazard, assess the risks, implement precautions and provide training to all staff at risk.

4. Care must be taken to avoid ingestion, inhalation and skin contact of all chemical substances. Spillage must be cleaned up immediately while observing all precautions.
5. Step-ladders which are used to gain access to heights must be in good condition and free from defects.
